Mark Inkrote Joins MVP RV As Regional Sales Manager For Motor Homes

RIVERSIDE, California, November 4, 2011 – Veteran recreation vehicle sales expert Mark Inkrote has joined MVP RV as regional sales manager for the company's line of popular motor homes.

Inkrote's 28-year career in the recreation vehicle industry includes serving in senior sales roles with Fleetwood RV, Inc. and Support Product Services.

"We are very lucky to have someone with Mark's experience, reputation and dealer relationships join our team," said Niles Whitehouse, MVP's motor home national sales manager.

"He has tremendous product knowledge across all tiers of the motor home business," said Whitehouse. "With his industry experience, Mark will play an integral role as we continue to expand our Class C lineup and move into Class As in the near future. We are expecting great things from him."

"I couldn't be more excited to join MVP RV's sales team and assist them in their rapid growth," said Inkrote. "Having the ability to bring my experience to the table and influence not only the Tahoe Class C line, but to be intimately involved in the launch of other motor home lines was a big factor in my decision to join the team. Being located in the West, which is home for me, is also a big plus. I'm looking forward to getting started and proud to be a part of the MVP family."

MVP RV, inc. builds travel trailers under the brand names Coast and Summit, fifth wheels under the brand names Jazz and Destiny, and toy haulers under the brand names Impact, Vortex and Envy. For more information about MVP RV's products, visit to www.mvprv.com.
